To Whom It May Concern:

Kathy Kosins is the consummate jazz singer who is deserving of a wider international audience. We at Highland Jazz feel fortunate to have had her perform in our concert series on March 9, 2013 as part of our 30th Anniversary season.

A multi-talented artist, she brought a unique insight into the West Coast Cool artistry of a quartet of female singers who were the highest exemplars of this genre: Anita O'Day, June Christy, Chris Connor and Julie London. In her celebration of these singers backed by her widely-acclaimed CD release: "To the Ladies of Cool", Kathy provides her own blend of swing, intuitive feel and emotionally-tinged lyricism that stamp her as an artist to be reckoned with. Our audience delighted in her in-depth exploration of these singers, their songs and their lives.

Any venue, series, university and/or workshop would be fortunate to have Kathy perform for them. Hers is a personalized performance that resonates, radiates and rejuvenates. You can't ask for anything more.

Sincerely,

Hank Solomon
